ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

“TO TRAVEL FAR AWAY BEGINS WITH ONE FOOT STEP”

A completion of this research work was not possible without encouragement and live involvement of my teachers, friends and family. It provides me pleasure to convey my feelings to all those who have directly or indirectly contributed to make this work successful and really made difference in my world.

First of all my “Shastang Pranam” to almighty Lord Ganesha, Goddess Ambe ma and Lord Krishna with my divine soul.

On this occasion I grab this opportunity to thank my teacher, my research guide Dr. Priti Trivedi who has not just guided me through the journey of research but has always drawn me from confusion to conclusion. Thank you mam, for giving me tremendous support throughout the way, for sharing your broad knowledge and experience of research for inspiring me with sharp and wise ideas. Mam you have taught me to make my way in all circumstances and how to be firmed to the aims and objectives of research.

I am sincerely thankful to my director Sir, Dr. K. Pundarikakshudu of L.I Institute of Pharmacy, for granting me the permission to carry out the Ph.D as well as for continuous support, guidance, motivation and suggestion. Thank you sir, for your constant help in the long journey of my research work.

I express my gratitude to principal Dr. Gaurang Shah, K.B. Institute of pharmacy to facilitate my Ph.D work.

I would like to take this opportunity to place my hearty thanks to Dr. Anita Lalwani and Chaitanya Bhatt for support and guidance in my research work.
I express my gratitude to Dr. Chandramauly Sharma, Shailendra Bhatt, Dr. Shreeraj Shah, Sheetal Acharya, Chintan oza, Ashish Panchal and all my colleagues for their support in my journey.

How can I forget my dear friends without whom all this work cannot be possible. I sincerely acknowledge the help rendered to me by Jayesh, Ankit and Shirish, during my research work.

I am also thankful to Yogesh bhai, Tyson, Prashant patel, pardeep vaghela and Sandeep bhai librarian and all supporting staff for their help during the work.

Great gratitude and love to my dear parents for raising me strong and independent personality. Thank you, MOM and DAD for your everlasting support.

Heartily thanks to all my family members, Bhaiya-Bhabhi, my sister Hemlata and jijaji Ganesh kumar for their love, source of inspiration and support.

I would like to thanks my innocent son Rohan for accepting me as busy dad and my neice Priyansi and Rutvik for refreshing me.

I owe a special debt to my father and mother-in law, Kavita and Dev for constant their encouragement, love and support.

Finally, thanks to my beloved wife Dipti for invaluable contributions to this thesis. Her moral support and constant motivation have ever been strength for me in completing my Ph.D successfully.
